Teaching & Learning Development Module

What is it?

The Teaching and Learning Development module can be used to record and analyse lesson observations, learning walks, book scrutinies and much more.

Forms can be created using our comprehensive teaching and learning frameworks, or you can set up frameworks already in use by your school. The system allows you to create as many forms as you need for your monitoring purposes and you can extensively customise each one.

Key Benefits

- Analysis screens generate visuals of your data as it's added to the system, enabling you to track progress

- Easy to add or remove features to your forms, such as the ability to grade or give development points

- Comes with a free copy of our Lessons Learned Framework (should you wish to use it), which is based on the Ofsted criteria and aims to provide a common framework

FAQs

Does it work with the other modules?

Yes. Development points identified as a result of T&L monitoring can be linked to CPD events.

Can it be customised?

Yes. Form types and the frameworks that sit behind these are created on a school by school basis.

New for 2018/19

This year we're introducing a new streamlined feedback tool as part of the Teaching and Learning module that will allow you to give positive and negative feedback to multiple staff, roles (e.g. teacher, SLT), subjects, year groups and classes all at once.

What does it cost?

If you're currently using...

1 module (excluding CPD).....................+ £200/year

2 modules (excluding CPD).........................+£50/year

Plus a one-off set up fee of £100 (+VAT).
